

Bradley M. Stohry

Associate
(317) 236-2424
bradley.stohry@icemiller.com

Assistant:
Carol Jansen
(317) 236-2376
carol.jansen@icemiller.com

Professional Experience

Brad Stohry is a member of the Firm's Intellectual Property Group. His practice involves mainly trademark and copyright prosecution, litigation, and licensing.

He advises clients in various aspects of trademark and copyright law, including issues with adoption, registration and licensing. He also assists clients in enforcing their copyright, trademark and domain name rights.

Stohry is admitted to practice before all Indiana State Courts and the Federal District Courts in Indiana.

He is originally from Flat Rock, Ind. He graduated summa cum laude from Ball State University, receiving his Bachelor of Arts in entrepreneurship in 2002. Stohry earned his juris doctorate from Indiana University School of Law-Indianapolis, in 2005.

Education

Bachelor of Arts in Entrepreneurship, Ball State University (2002)
Indiana University School of Law-Indianapolis (2005)

Admitted to Practice

Indiana, United States District Court - Northern District of Indiana, United States District Court - Southern District of Indiana

Professional Associations

Member, Indiana Bar Association;
Member, International Trademark Association